

Kate Pomerleau is a Senior Project Manager and PMO Manager in Research Administrative Services at Mayo Clinic. Mrs. Pomerleau manages multiple projects and staff including the implementation of IBM Watson for Clinical Trials Matching within the Mayo Clinic Cancer Center. Her experience includes 16+ years of project management and development work in all phases of diverse technology and process improvement projects. Mrs. Pomerleau holds a Bachelor's Degree in Management Information Systems, an MBA with a technology management emphasis, and her PMP certification as a project manager.